10/10 Best game ever.
  Pros
-Better than fallout 4
-Stunning Graphics
-Smooth gameplay
-Compatible with most computers
-Great character selection
-Variety of amazing backgrounds
  Cons
-Not yet a second one in the works.. This game definitely deserves more attention. There are many levels, including an endless mode, speedrun mode, and co-op mode, all of which making this game very unique. For $8, there is a lot of content. It is played with a controller, and can be very difficult, especially boss battles, and levels around the second half of the game.. I wonder how many Pixel Puzzles game are out there in the Steam Store, Decaying Logic what the actual ♥♥♥♥. Madcap Castle aims to be a puzzle platformer from the days of Game Boy era games and does a very good job at reaching those aims.

TLDR; First Impressions Video and Critique

The controls are tight and intutive as well are the mechanics relating to your active abilities on each world. The movement is the biggest thing that could have made this game cross the line between challenging but attainable or frustrating and sloppy. Im happy to say that it most certainly falls into the former category making the puzzles challenging but I always felt that I could complete them with practice.

The only things I would like to see from either a patch on this game or in the developers future games is more love for the options menus!

Please put in something to the effect of audio sliders for your music, FX, and master volumes. By no means is the sound unbalanced between the different types of sounds created during gameplay but it is always a little piece of customization that is sorely missed when its not there.

The last thing I would love to see patched is a way to get back to the main menu from the world selection screen. You can return to the main menu when you've selected a world and are choosing a level but not when you're selecting just a world.

They are little nit picks but worthwhile to bring up.

All in all I enjoyed Madcap Castle would reccomened at least playing the demo if you have a spare 1\/2 hour :). I have tried several times this game before the Steam relaease and I'm not impressed. Most of the time i do not know what is going on or why thing are not working as expected. Waste of money.

Fruity tube vikings for the win :D. Cool Game, Fun, but unable to save... If you want to start over every time try it.... This game...why did you make me cry?. This is illogical nonsense, a nothing burger if you will. Bored the entire time, story was awful. Anti Govt propaganda. It doesn't play all that well to be honest. The graphics look okay, but the gameplay itself is too, well I wouldn't want to say hard, but you have to keep a lot of things in mind and be on your toes if you want to succesfully beat someone, or just the objectives. It minimizes the fun factor. I honestly think they could've built a better game around this ragdoll mechanic. Would I want to see a new or other game with this kind of ragdoll fighting ? No. It's 'fun' for just a few minutes at best. Keep away.

[Rating: 62\/100]. Terrible piece of♥♥♥♥♥♥game, don't even bother.

Visually, it's trash, the "electro barrier" doesn't even♥♥♥♥♥♥out 1 spark of electricity to look cool, it's a static model like everything else and just deals damage behind the curtain, you don't even see it. The flame thrower doesn't burn anything, it's basically just a machine gun with yellow smoke instead of bullets. Horribly underwhelming.

The gameplay itself sucks balls. When you join an online game here's what you can do: nothing. You can't buy barricades, turrets or whatever. You can't place them if there's some in store, you can't buy any weapon either, you also can't buy ammo for the weapons. There is literally 0 thing you can do. The host does everything. And of course he does it wrong. He buys all the stuff, he places all the stuff and all the weapons/ammo he buys goes into some sort of invisible shared pool for everyone. So let's say you ask nicely to get a shotgun, now there's 2 people who can try to switch weapons faster than you and obtain the shotgun. The host then has to buy 4 shotguns. But will he? No. Of course not.

Basically the host plays the game and you're just a bot. You're one more "auto turret" hiding behind the cover except I guess you can press G to toss a grenade or two if the big boss thought of buying you one.. Loved all of the Elder Scrolls games, when I finally built a PC that could handle VR, I knew I needed this game. I love it. Fighting a dragon face to face? Casting two spells with arms focused at different enemies? Becoming Legolas, sticking arrows into enemies a country mile away? Yes please. Can't recommend it enough. Running with a 7500K @4.5GHz, EVGA 1070 SC, 16GB DDR4
